Award Winning Valve Amplifiers

NEW Remote Control Version

designed by David Shaw

NEW Passive Line Pre-Amp

Extend Your Input Selection

As featured in Hi Fi World

Do you need more inputs, volume control and remote control?

If you need any of these the Icon Passive, or Passive R could help.

Our passive preamplifier is ideal for use with most power amplifiers. Most CD/DVD, tubers etc already have enough voltage. Its beauty is that it has no distortion or noise, therefore does not colour the sound, and the price is very affordable.

This is the only way to hear the true sound of your power amplifier, with nothing added.

The Passive is very versatile and can also be used purely as a selector box with the volume on full. Or by providing a monitoring circuit for your recording equipment as well as additional inputs. It is a very useful addition to any hi fi system.

As a general guide it may be used with any power amp or mono blocks with 1v sensitivity or greater. This includes the QUAD 303 and all of the Leak valve amplifiers.

Exactly the same as the "Passive", the "Passive R" offers exactly the same specification but with the benefit of remote control volume.

This will allow the user to obtain the precise level of sound in his armchair and adjust for differences found in different tracks of your recording.

We have used the same high quality ALPs Blue pot that is in our other remote control amplifiers.
